

the first edition

For and About Employees of the K mart Home Office

Christmas carols ring through KIH halls

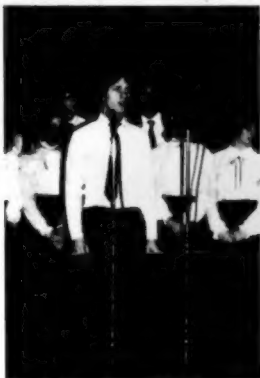

Photo by Michelle Deland

A soloist from the Sterling Heights High School Chorus.

Photo by Michelle Deland

Joyce Smith, records department, sings the third verse from "Silent Night." Joyce is part of the K mart Karolers, directed by Heidi Flynn, financial reporting.

Katie captures vocal award

Katie Weidig knows what it takes to capture an audience. She won first place, vocal, in the Michigan Performing Arts Talent Show for persons with mental retardation.

The daughter of Neva Weidig, real estate, Katie has been competing in this show for the last three years. The first year she won second place, vocal, and the second year she won first place soloist.

"The people are judged for stage presentation as well as for their talent," Neva says. "I can see in my own daughter that now she can walk out onto the stage and know how to act. It's really a good thing for developing poise."

con't on back page

Photo by Michelle Deland

Clawson High School Chorus.